As we continue through these tough economic times Mobile Paint Manufacturing Company has much to be proud of.

Over the last 10 years, our company has continued to grow at a rate higher than the industry average, making us one of the largest paint manufacturers in the United States. This growth reflects the quality of our products and our people, the reliability of our suppliers, the dedication of our employees, the professionalism of our independent dealers and the loyalty of our customers.

Throughout its history, Mobile Paint has been at the forefront of change within the industry — responding to the needs of customers by pioneering new products and services.

But one thing has not changed. This company was founded on a commitment to quality, and that commitment continues today. The BLP Mobile Paint trademark remains your assurance of the highest quality paint products for home, marine and industrial use.

With this in mind we have chosen this time to again be innovators in the industry. The uncertainty of the economy demands that someone step up and take charge by offering a state-of-the-art production paint line far superior to any other on the market. We are setting a new standard by which all others must live up to. We are proud to introduce

PRO TECH Production Paint Coatings.

We are proud of all of our products and our facilities. But it is people who have set us apart and allowed us to maintain our leadership position in the industry. Our goal is to continue to merit your vital support.
